FRENCH SUCCESS IN MADAGASCAR.

The Capital of the Island Captured by the Invaders.

QUEEN AND COURT FLED.

Antananarivo Was Strongly Fortified and Its Fall Is a Crushing Blow to the Hova.

PORT LUIS, Island of Mauritius, Oct. 8.—Advices received here to-day from the Island of Madagascar announce that the French expeditionary force which has been advancing upon the capital for many weeks, captured Antananarivo on Sept. 27. The Prime Minister and the Court fled to Ambositra. The news was brought to the coast by couriers from Vatomandry on cording to the French, by the treaty of December, 1886, the French resident and a military guard of French troops was to remain at the capital and control the Island relations. Madagascar, making the Island, to all intents and purposes, a French protectorate. The Government of Madagascar, under the late King, had claimed that France had a right to what she claimed. In September, 1894, Le Myre De Vilers was sent to Madagascar with an ultimatum from the French government that France should control the foreign relations of Madagascar. The ultimatum was delivered to the Prime Minister, Parhamiarivo, who is the son-in-law of the Queen, to Ambositra on Oct. 2. After several days of deliberation the Prime Minister rejected the ultimatum, and France began the present invasion.

The expedition left France in January under command of Gen. Duchesne. The fall of the Malagasy capital will probably end the war.

REJOICING IN FRANCE.

Paris Hears the News of Victory Over the Hova.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—A dispatch received here from Port Luis, Island of Mauritius, late this morning announced the capture of Antananarivo, capital of the Island of Madagascar, by the French troops, and caused great relief to the Government, as it has been recognized for some time past that the defeat of the French troops meant

ALL FOR HER.

Andrew Freeman Fell in Love and Gave Himself Up to the Police.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.
BOSTON, Oct. 8.—When Andrew Freeman, whom there is no more notorious crook in New England, gave himself up to the police, they could not understand it. For twenty years this man has waged incessant war against society. So this sudden and complete submission was a mystery until it became known that he had done it for love.

His last sentence was for years in Charlestown (Mass.) penitentiary. Put to work in the machine shops, he made and bog steer which had been stolen from Shaw's ranch. In the fight which ensued Shaw and both the Mexicans and the child were killed and the woman severely wounded.

Masked Men Rob the Passengers on an Electric Car.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 8.—About 8 o'clock last night five masked men held up an Evanston electric car between Argyle Park and Edgewater. Two of the robbers covered the motorman and conductor, and the other three entered the car with drawn revolvers. There were eight passengers. The women screamed, and those of the men who made no movement to escape were given an opportunity to look into the mouth of a cocked revolver. When the passengers

SITUATION IN TURKEY

The Guardships of the Powers Keep Watch at Galata.

CONSTANTINOPLE (Via Sodra), Oct. 8.—The guardships of the various powers are moored at Galata in order to be in a position to render aid to the foreigners in case it is needed. A council of ministers has been held at the palace in order to consider the terms of the note submitted to the Porte by the envoys of the six powers.

There have been no further disturbances of a serious nature here. The Armenian shelling of Silvas, late October, has been quieted.

It is reported that serious disturbances between the Armenians and the Turks have broken out at Silvas, Van and Bitlis, three of the provinces of Armenia.

Later in the day the patrols in this city were strengthened by additional forces of infantry and cavalry. The Sultan twice sent word to Paris to the Patriarch in order to co-operate with the Patriarch in the latter's efforts to induce the Armenians who have sought refuge in the churches to return home. All efforts to that direction, however, have proved futile. The Armenians, declaring that they have no confidence in the promises of protection made by the Turkish Government.

In all fifty-five bodies have been delivered to officials of the Patriarchate by order of the Sultan, and it is claimed they represent all the Armenians killed during the recent rioting.

Faid Pasha has gone to the Dardanelles in order to inspect the fortifications, and a number of torpedoes have been forwarded to the straits.

SOCIALIST DELEGATES ARRESTED.

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—Dr. Eisenberg of Vienna, the Austrian delegate to the Socialist Congress now in session here, was arrested this morning.

WAS THERE A CAUCUS HELD?

Question Regarding the Old State Committee Which Is Being Asked.

Was there a caucus of the old members of the Democratic State Central Committee in St. Louis Saturday night?

This is a question to which the presence of certain Democrats in the city last Saturday, together with certain events of the day, are asking each other. The old members of the committee who reside in St. Louis are all Democrats. Col. C. C. Knott, J. C. Robinson and A. C. Stever. All of them are members of the party conflicting with him. Also a Democrat, bravest and boldest of the Confederates, an aristocrat from Virginia, he had nevertheless been chosen to the Senate by his constituents, and was a member of the Senate at that moment chanced to be a tie, and accident gave him the power to organize it as a Democratic or Republican house. Now he is a member of the party in power in the councils of his party, and he has once attracted national attention. Not only did he attain a striking figure in military uniform, but he was peculiar and unique in civilian's garb. Moreover, the party conflict is going on body and soul.

He was a member of the Democratic party, and he was a Democrat.

Col. "Josh" Thomas of the Fourth District was in town all day yesterday and Saturday night, and Chairman Maffitt who haunted the LaSalle lobby from about 8 until 8 o'clock p. m. in an earnest and determined effort to see him.

Col. Carroll didn't register at any of the downtown hotels, but is said to have eaten a late dinner at the Jockey Club with his friends, and then went to the hotel in which he had registered. About the time cigars had been offered for the distinguished trio Col. Griffen, the National Committeeman, and Col. T. C. Connelly of the First District, are said to have entered the room arm in arm. It was then that Chairman Maffitt who had been trying to have discharged his friend to the LaSalle, came to see him.

The subject of discussion at the caucus which ensued is supposed to have been the attitude of the old committee should assume toward the committee now created by the Perle Springs Convention, and it is said that the decision in the matter will be given expression when the new members are seated. Col. Knott, chairman of the State Central Committee and Chairman of the State Central Committee ignores their demand.

Col. Knott, editor of the Hamilton Journal and the new member of the Democratic State Central Committee representing the First District, is among the prominent Missouri politicians attached to the city by the Valley Falls festival.

Col. Knott had a long conference with Geo. W. Allen, yesterday morning, concerning the affairs of the State, particularly with regard to a call for an early meeting in order to fully equip and instruct the new committee for the work of organization.

"I confess that we are considerably handicapped," said Col. Knott to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "We are trying to induce Chairman Maffitt to call the Committee together I don't know how he can be moved or how we can proceed. There is no question about the party activity, which was greatly increased in Virginia. He is said to have been held incommunicado in a cell in the basement of the Francis-Martin junta, and he would have been had he committed a crime. His former associates spoke to him in the highest terms, and he was a man worth being a Republican." But little Mahone, with his flowing beard and spindle legs, was not inclined to follow the die-hard party in its broodings silence, he declared that he was still a Democrat in principle, but not indebted to the Democratic party for his place in the Senate, and he remained a Democrat henceforth and forever.

Col. Knott declared vehemently, "that here is a man who dares stand and defend his rights against you and me, and he is a Democrat. Col. Knott had walked the streets of Washington bankrupt, hopeless, though not wholly friendless. He had a small pensioner, a pensioner on the generosity of one of his associates, John Chamberlain, the unknown. Too honorable to run away from any just claim under his circumstances, he gave up in this high presence and pride from the stock of his own property, Mahone had had nothing in the world but his pride and the home in Petersburgh, his pride and his wife, his only child, and his wife.

Contrast this with his condition when he entered the Senate and took his seat in favor of the Republicans when he was a member of the Senate in Virginia. He had the esteem and the society of all the first families. His name associated with new enterprises was a guarantee not only of success but of popularity. The leading men of the State were proud to claim his friendship and partake of his prodigal hospitality. His fine old place of residence, Davis, and son were often at his table, eating the produce of his farm and garden, famous for the quality of their meats, game and vegetables. The family of Col. Knott were sought in the highest circles of a society always aristocratic and exclusive. The daughter of the hero of Petersburg was welcome everywhere.

When Gen. Mahone cast his lot with the Republican party, the Senator was aware that he was leaving food or a roof over his head.

CUBA MAY BE RECOGNIZED.

Insurgents Await the Convening of Congress.

INTERESTING PRECEDENT.

The Attitude of Monroe Toward the Spanish-American Government in 1822.

WASHINGTON. Oct. 8.—Gonzales De Quesada, secretary of the Cuban Revolutionary party, with headquarters in New York, has been in Washington recently on private business. He did not see Secretary Gwin, nor were any steps taken towards securing the recognition of the Cuban insurgents as belligerents. Mr. Quesada had come to attend the trial of the Cuban filibusters at Wilmington, and extended his trip to Washington to see friends. The policy of the Cubans in seeking recognition of the United States has been under consideration by the government. No application will be made to the executive branch of the government until Congress assembled. It is the feeling that when the executive authorities were disposed to recognize the Cubans the action would involve such grave responsibilities that the executive branch would desire to have the opposition and support of Congress. Care will be taken also to see that there is uniformity in the steps proposed to Congress. In this way the insurrection may be timed so that the last Cuban uprising will be avoided. At that time there were no less than forty different Cuban resolutions referred to the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, proposing recognition, arbitration and many other plans, all intended to favor Cuba. In the end the diversity of proposed programs was agreed upon and no course was taken with the probable presentation of the subject to Congress and the executive branch an interesting program was developed by the Cuban members of the State Department. It involved the recognition by President Monroe of the South and Central American republics when they broke away from Spain, and the recognition of the United States, which Washington made the most urgent protest, to which John Quincy Adams, Secretary of State, replied, stating the position of the government in the recognition. The propositions then advanced by Spain and the replies made by the United States are said to be exactly parallel, in the statements and arguments, to the status of the Cuban affair to-day.

President Monroe sent a message to Congress in March, 1823, in which he declared the rights of the insurgent governments in Spanish America, as then designated, and including Mexico, Peru, Chile, Colombia, Brazil and other countries of South America, and the Spanish Minister. He had previously addressed a threatening letter to the house, so the officers were on the watch for him. This morning he turned up and in an innocent manner, as if he had been ill, showed a disordered mind, announced he had come for employment as the President's boy. He was promptly removed to the infirmary, where he remains, it is probable that he will be examined as to his mental condition and placed in safety.

IN THE ALMSHOUSE.

Death of a Connecticut Man Who Was Made Poor in Wall Street.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 8.—Chauncy Goodrich died in the Almshouse last night, aged 79. Twenty-five years ago he was a member of the Connecticut State Senate and prominent in Democratic politics in this State. He made $10,000 in clocks and mechanical toys run by clock-work. He lost his fortune in speculation in Wall street.

Goodrich used to tell how he started his wealth. When young, Goodrich invested $200 and quickly made $3,000. The fever caught him and in a few years he was penniless.

NO DRAWBACK.

Departmental Decision of Interest to the White Lead Trade.

WASHINGTON. Oct. 8.—Assistant Secretary Hamlin has written a letter in answer to an inquiry in which he states that the Attorney-General has rendered an opinion which hereafter will govern the department in acting holding the white lead manufacturers from pig lead produced in a bonded smelting and refining establishment from the mixture of domestic and imported lead. The manufacturer can back up the provisions of section 22 of the new tariff act. This decision, it is said, is based upon the fact that the amount of imported ores cannot be determined by the manufacturer ascertained by chemical analysis. Nor will the manufacturer be permitted to show by other evidence the proportions of domestic and imported ores so used.

Cuban Prisoners Set Sail for a Spanish Penal Settlement.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

(Copyright, 1895, by the Press Co.)

HABANA, Cuba, Oct. 8.—The progress of the revolution westward is rapid. A train which left here for Cienfuegos this morning returned at noon, having only reached as far as Jaruco, thirty miles distant. The train could not continue its journey because the storm had destroyed the railroad bridge, the Spanish way, but from other sources the Post-Dispatch correspondent learns that the rebels are dynamiting, not the hurricane, wrecked the bridge.

Gen. Campos left yesterday for Las Villas to get personal information about the battle of La Victoria, and on his return to Santa Clara, the Spanish way, before Gen. Campos could leave again, he was waited upon by some of the most prominent Cuban autodictators from Santiago a few days ago. All their efforts to have them released were unavailing.

MACEO IN GOOD HEALTH.

Survives the Thirteenth Report That He Had Been Killed.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—It was denied at the Cuban headquarters that Gen. Maceo has been killed, while the report of his death was widely ridiculed.

"It is now the thirteenth time that Gen. Maceo has been reported positively dead by the Spanish Government," said the Spanish Foreign Minister, "and the Cuban state governments ought to kill almost any man, but he is still in good health."

ALLEGED EMBEZZLEMENT.—Dumont Jones, proprietor of an old advertising agency, has been brought to justice while the reports of his death were widely ridiculed.

"It is now the thirteenth time that Gen. Maceo has been reported positively dead by the Spanish Government," said the Spanish Foreign Minister.

The Cuban government has ordered the firm to pay him $10,000, Jones says Hoffman collected for the firm and that he appropriated it.

HAGAN WAS NOT DEPOSED.

He Controls the Theater and Cannot Be Put Out.

As was predicted in the Sunday Post-Dispatch, nothing was done by the Board of Directors of the Hagan Opera-house concerning the deposing of Ollie Hagan as manager. Mr. Hagan will continue in his present position as formerly. There is undoubtedly considerable talk among the stockholders in the theater concerning Mr. Hagan's habits, and he got into the newspapers, but the matter was straightened out before the board meeting and no action was taken.

"Certain persons with whom I have had a little trouble," said Mr. Hagan in denying the publication of the report, "have been as persistent as ever. They have taken pains to stir this thing up and give me a little bit, but I want to say that I am the manager of the Hagan Opera-house, and the Board of Directors can't fire me. I elect the directors myself. As far as my relations with the public are concerned we are just like brothers."

BY COURTESY OF FRIENDS.

Mr. Scullin Will Run a Branch of His Road to Forest Park.

The latest report in street railway circles is that Mr. John Scullin will reach Forest Park by means of his new road running along Arsenal street and Old Manchester road to Clifton Heights. Construction work is progressing along the line from Arsenal and Clifton and King's highway to Columbia and Clifton avenues. At this point is the terminus of the new line, according to the manager. From this point it also spreads out the angle domain of Police Commissioner Jerry Fruin. His estate extends down to the Riverdes Peres and he has recently built a new road there, a spot near Columbia and Clifton avenues, leading to the river at a cost of $7,000. To reduce the grade as much as possible a cut-twenty-eight-foot deep was made in the side of the road. The main ballasted drive is visible from Missouri Pacific trains.

Nominally this improvement is for the convenience of Mr. Fruin's carriage, but the accepted theory is that it is to be located as a street road to be used by Mr. Fruin's car. This was the reason why the almost precipitous descent to the river was graded down twenty-eight feet. Across the new road, from Mr. Fruin's place, is a large piece of property owned by Mr. William T. Anderson, President of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railway, ex-president of the Merchants' Exchange and ex-member of the City Council. His land extends as far as Clayton road and McCausland avenue, and is bounded by the line running down Fruin's driveway to traverse Anderson's property along a route to be dedicated as a public road to Newmarket, and thence to Forest Avenue, as it now exists, to the southwest corner of Forest Park and thence, perhaps, down town.

To cross the Riverdes Peres from Fruin's to Anderson's property a bridge will be needed. As soon as the grade is completed through their lands, to be called Forest avenue, the city will have to build a bridge at a public cost of $20,000.

Mr. Scullin, who has agreed to let the proposed extension of his line run through Forest Park, and the way indicated, made a decisive denial. He said that the franchise only permitted the extension of the road to Clifton and Columbia avenues.

Mr. Anderson, when asked if he had not already granted Mr. Scullin a right of way, said: "I will give him one August 15, 1886, in a special building to be used for the purpose in the business center of the city and on the lake front. It will be open to a celebration July 22, when the dedication certificate will be delivered by Senator Hawley of Connecticut."

MARONEY WITHDRAWS.

A Committee Visits St. Louis at a Very Auspicious Time.

A number of prominent citizens of Cleveland, Ohio, arrived in St. Louis Tuesday evening and were assigned to rooms at the Franklin Avenue hotel, at which the wage scale and an alliance with certain contractors will be taken up. The most important business, however, will be the amalgamation of the two unions that have been at loggerheads for three years.

The plan is to call a meeting of the two unions that have been pitted against each other in some of the strikes for some time and has been the source of a great deal of trouble to both unions. The last strike brought up the question of a coalition of the police to clear the hall. So bitter has been the feeling between the two organizations that no one would take the jobs of members of the other, and the bosses and contractors in defeating each other in a strike was ordered.

The wage scale, however, fights between members of the rival organizations and the calling of a strike was a signal that that would soon begin.

If the call up comes, the surviving members of either union struck and were not able to protect the men. Many a hard blow has been received during these outbreaks, and the wage scale constantly declines.

Finding that the contractors were working at a lower rate, their own good effort was made to patch up the strike, which has been over a year in coming to a focus.

If the call up comes, the surviving members of either union struck and were not able to protect the men. Many a hard blow has been received during these outbreaks, and the wage scale constantly declines.

In the presence of Mayor George W. McKinley, Director of the Centralized Commission; Director General William M. Day, Hon. H. G. Sargent, Director of Schools and Centralized Commission; Hon. H. H. Burnham, member of the Expedition Committee, and Hon. Wm. J. Akers and George W. Kinney, members of the Executive Board, and A. Fanning, recently prominent in the journalism of St. Louis, the two organizations are accompanied by Mayor George W. McKinley, Director General William M. Day, Hon. H. G. Sargent, Director of Schools and Centralized Commission; Hon. H. H. Burnham, member of the Expedition Committee, and Hon. Wm. J. Akers and George W. Kinney, members of the Executive Board, and A. Fanning, recently prominent in the journalism of St. Louis, and with a dozen other prominent men.

The party was met at the Union Station on arrival by Mayor Walbridge and Park Commissioner, and was escorted to their home.

Later in the day, they were met by Mayor Walbridge, ex-Gov. Francis and representatives of the Business Men's Association, who gave them valuable hints on the organization and management of the contemplated enterprise. They will view the new building, recently completed by Mr. Fanning, and attend the opening on an agreement to maintain the union.

This matter will also be disposed of to-night, but it is thought that it will be disposed of to-night.

WHY NOT QUAY?

Flushed with his victory over the Magee revolters in Pennsylvania, Senator Quay has now entered upon a quest which is expected to place him at the head of the Republican National Committee in next year's campaign. It is not Mr. Quay's method to seek what he wants in politics with a brass band, but he has not been able to conceal his present purpose from members of the Republican National Committee who have ambitions or favorites of their own.

Hence it is that through the Republican newspapers, which are almost a unit against Quay, the danger of placing him again at the head of the National Committee is being emphasized. He would furnish a mark for the Democratic party's campaign orators, so it is pointed out, and whatever discredits him would credit the ticket in whose behalf he was leading the fight.

It is not Mr. Quay's habit to talk when in the midst of a political fight. If he could be induced to speak, however, he would doubtless borrow one of Dr. Parkhurst's phrases. In describing his critics he would say they are "morally finical," "would ask why any Republican could object to him or his methods."

Who is shielding them? How and upon whom is their influence exerted? Was State Attorney Graham derelict? Were Grand-Jurymen bribed? Were witnesses bribed or bulldozed into silence? In view of the result these are pertinent questions.

Judge Shirley and State's Attorney Graham cannot afford to let the investigation close with this fiasco. Another Grand-Jury should be summoned to take up the work. If the hoodlums cannot be indicted in Sangamon County, investigation should be started wherever there is jurisdiction over the hoodlums.

THE KAFFIE GAMBLE.

After immensely enriching one gambler, putting thousands in the pockets of a few others, and correspondingly depleting the bank accounts of thousands of small English speculators, it is said that the "Kaffie" gambling fever has reached America. It is to be hoped, for the good sense of St. Louis, that the stock will not find a market here. The effect of dabbling in it could be nothing but disastrous.

South Africa is too far away for any real interest in its gold fields to be felt here. It is not pretended that those who are proposing to list the stock in the Chicago market expect to interest American enterprises in South African gold fields. They simply expect to make some money from dopes on this side the Atlantic, after having about exhausted the English shearing pens.

The men who made most money in these Kaffie stocks in London were not the leaders of industry or those who actually opened the gold deposits in South Africa. The leader among them was simply a clever gambler, whose motto seems to have been "Audacity, audacity, and still audacity."

There are plenty of legitimate enterprises nearer home in which to invest.

THE PAPER TRUST.

If an attempt should be made to levy a tax on every newspaper bought by the people of this country there would be a universal and indignant protest, which would soon wipe the obnoxious tax from the statute books. Yet this is precisely what the trust to control the manufacture of newspaper papers proposes to do.

The organization of this combine is now practically completed. It is reported to have secured control of plants, which manufacture about 900 tons of the 1,200 tons required for the daily consumption of the newspapers of this country.

The value of the trust plants does not exceed $10,000,000, but it is proposed to capitalize the trust at $35,000,000, and in order to pay dividends on the watered stock the price of paper will be advanced from 15 to 25 per cent.

Two wrongs are involved in the formation of this trust. The public will be gullied into buying stock based on plants, many of which are antique and practically useless, and watered to three and a half times its actual value. It will be another Cydgate scheme of loot. An oppressive tax will be levied on knowledge and the dissemination of information.

The proposed addition to the series of paper will add to the cost of newspaper production $1,000 daily. This will in effect an annual tax of over $360,000 on the newspaper press of the country, which must be borne in the end by the newspaper readers. The tax is levied solely to enable a few speculators to pay dividends on watered stock and secure excessive profits on an illegal enterprise.

It is not likely that the newspapers will submit to such oppression when the annual excess of payments in one year will more than reproduce the manufacturing capacity of the trust mills. The public will probably be duped in the sale of the trust certificates.

But the attempt to levy this tax of organized greed should be rebuked by Congress in the repeal of the tariff taxes on wood pulp and all the machinery and chemicals entering into the manufacture of paper. The Government cannot afford to be a partner in a scheme to tax knowledge for private gain.

Last Sunday's Post-Dispatch not only attained a circulation many thousands larger than was ever before attained by a St. Louis Sunday newspaper, but in monetary value of advertising it has been but twice surpassed in the history of the Post-Dispatch. The three best days in the Post-Dispatch's history were March 21, April 7 and October 6, 1895.

THE CRIMINAL BOND ABUSES.

Judge Edmunds did not overstate in his instructions to the Grand-Jury the importance of remedying the abuses in the matter of accepting invalid or insufficient bonds for prisoners in the Criminal Courts.

The abuse is an old one which has baffled all attempts at reform and has been prolific of scandals. The disreputable business of professional and straw bondsmen which has enabled many criminals to escape punishment has grown out of it. It has caused, not only the defeat of justice in many cases, but the loss of thousands of dollars to the State through the acceptance of worthless bonds. It was rightly described by Judge Edmunds as an abuse which seriously affects the administration of justice.

The law is deficient and should have been amended long ago so that the State would have a lien on the property of bondsmen, but in the absence of a good law the laws we have should be utilized to protect the State. The law against perjury applies to all bondsmen who swear falsely as to their property. The enforcement of this law against a few false swearing bondsmen would put a stop to the worst bond abuses.

With the facts laid before it by Judge Edmunds and in the possession of the prosecuting officer, the Grand-Jury should have no difficulty in indicting some of the rascals who perjure themselves for the benefit of criminals and to line their own pockets.

THE BOODLE INQUIRY FIASCO.

The boodle investigation of the Sangamon County Grand-Jury has ended in a fizzle. The finding of one indictment against Representative Gibson of Chicago is a most disappointing result.

Representative Gibson was one of the case among the boodlers. His case is admittedly the least important of all that were brought to the attention of the Grand-Jury. He is indicted for accepting a bribe of $350 in connection with the Interstate Building and Loan Association investigation.

The big boddies have all escaped. The lobbyists who handled and placed the slush funds, the Assemblymen who marshalled the forces of corruption and received the richest boodle plums have managed in some mysterious way, known only to the expert manipulators of the machinery of justice, to evade the consequences of their crimes. Only one minor offender, because his pull happened to be defendant or because his case can be trusted to collapse in court, was allowed to be tried.

The people of Illinois cannot be satisfied with such an outcome of the investigation. It is admitted that there is abundant evidence to convict the big rascals. But it is claimed that their influence is too powerful to be overcome. They are safely shielded from prosecution.

With a good American financial system we should cease to worry ourselves and make predictions as to when the gold outflow would cease and when gold might come back to us. Let us be financial freemen.

WOMEN OF NOTE.

Mr. Roosevelt declares that Trude of Chicago, who says Mr. Roosevelt shot bears after they had been trapped, is a liar. Possibly this is true of Trude. His environment at least is against him.

While Druggist Walbridge is compounding pleasant pink pills for his party, let him beware lest Hoodlum Walbridge fire a "rock" through the plate-glass window.

Prayer for rain has been answered in Kentucky. Doubtless the novelty of a prayer for water in Kentucky so struck the powers of the air that they yielded.

Women filled all the pulpits in Vincennes, Ind., last Sunday, but in justice to the good ladies it should be said that none of them appeared in bloomers.

Republican organists that denounce Cleveland are ungrateful. Still, so long as Bill Chandler stands by him he will not complain.

Arizona wants to come in, but a Republican Congress will scarcely be in haste to bring another silver State into the Union.

Love is as soft as yonder side.

It has been learned that of the forty-four State Governors in the American Union thirty-nine are avowed believers in religion, twenty-nine are professed Christians, most of them are regular attendants at worship and the great majority are contributors to the expense of religious work. These statistics ought to strengthen the church's great claim, taken in connection with the fact that Col. Bob Ingersoll not only cannot be elected to anything, but is beyond even an appointment.

SEARCHING FOR DEAD BODIES.

Rescuing Parties at Work in the Dorrance Mine.

LIST OF KNOWN VICTIMS.

Will Never Be Learned Who Ignited the Gas and Caused the Explosion.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Oct. 8.—The bodies of three men, killed in the explosion of gas in the Dorrance mine last night, were recovered early this morning. A party of rescuers headed by Foreman Jones were the first to come upon the bodies. The cage-like house was fitted up as a temporary morgue, and as the mangy remains were brought to the surface they lay out on it. The bodies were almost beyond recognition. Fire Boss Davis and Engineer Owings were literally roasted, and Cahill had a large gash on the forehead, evidently from the force of the explosion. The men were killed by the force of the explosion, and all died nearly in the same spot.

Up to 8 a.m., no more bodies had been recovered. It is believed that the list of dead will be confined to the following:

WILLIAM JONES, mining engineer, aged 32 years.

WILLIAM CARILLA, mining engineer, 21 years, single.

LLEWELLYN OWINGS, mining engineer, 25 years, son of Division Superintendent Owings, who is dead.

DAVID J. DAINE, fire boss, leaves a wife and two children.

MICHAEL MORRIS, 40 years, Polisher, single.

Robert Miller and Robert Blanchard, two members of the engineering party brought to the surface last night, are still in a precarious condition at the hospital. The physicians fear their burns and other injuries will prove fatal.

The injured men, brought out at the same time, George Lappin and Jim Murphy, are in a fair way to recover.

Two Hungarian workers reported to the station master this morning that their husbands, who went to work in the mines yesterday, had not returned to their home last night. It is presumed that both were lost in a fall of rock near the scene of the explosion and were killed.

The bodies of the men are now clearing up at the depot. They can be seen at the place where the Hungarians were at work in a few hours. A Hungarian boarding-housekeeper says the missing men got out of the mine and as he saw them in a saloon at midnight.

The question as to which one of the un-named pairs of engineers was shot as one of the four men who entered the working shaft where the gas was encountered, not one lives to tell the tale. The general supposition is that one of the engineers was careless in the presence of a newly-discovered body of gas, and instead of adopting the precautions of safety, he took his chance.

He walked into the gas in an erect position, thereby setting it on fire and causing the awful explosion. Another theory is that the gas was caused by the explosion of the accident. He is the captain of the party and the engineers were subject to his orders. If he had discovered a new body it was his business to give the alarm to the end.

The mine officials are not to be blamed, however, that Davis could have been taken by surprise. He was a very careful man and was not having the end in view when he thought it was unsafe.

It had always been his custom upon discovering gas in a mine not to allow anyone to approach the spot until he had made arrangements to have the pack one-third, and the further fact that jobbers have bought sparingly of futures, leads me to believe that the price will advance in the future.

It will be seen that Davis had great difficulties to contend with, but they exerted every effort to reach him. The air was filled with smoke and foul with after-damps and bristles had to be erected to maintain the current of the air. There were plenty of willing hands, however, and as fast as one shift became exhausted another was ready to take its place.

Supt. Chase says the explosion did not cause such damage to the mine as was at first thought.

SCULPTOR STORY DEAD.

He Died Yesterday at the Home of His Sister at Vallombrosa.

AMERICAN SCULPTOR WILLIAM WENDELL STORY, 14 days of Vallombrosa, Italy, at the home of his daughter, the Marchesa Pieruzzi. He was born at Salem, Mass., in 1811, and was the son of Joseph Story, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, and the famous commentator on the Constitution. He studied law at Harvard, received his degree in 1831, and in 1840, where he studied under his father's direction. He was admitted to the bar and at the same time began to write for the Boston "Missellany" and other periodicals. In 1846 his fondness for art led him to study painting, and after a short time he gave up painting, devoting his attention chiefly to sculpture. His statue of his father in the Chapel of Mount Auburn Cemetery, over the grave of the author of "Pax," Puritan, Garden, busts of James Russell Lowell, Theodore Parker and Josiah Quincy, and the sitting statue of Chief Justice Taney, are some of the best known of the Capitol at Washington are well known samples of his art, and he modeled a bronze statue of George Washington, which was presented in 1883 to the City of Baltimore through the liberally endowed Commissioner on Fine Arts to the World's Fair at Paris in 1889, and has received decorations from France and Italy. "Samuel," "Paul," "Delilah," "Helen," "Judith," "Sardanapalus," "Jerusalem in Her Desolation," "The War and Action," and others, the latter of which are now in the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City. Mr. Story was also an accomplished musician.

WAS NOT PETRIFIED.

Mr. Rawak Explains Why He Placed a Guard at His Wife's Grave.

Mr. Jacob Rawak explains his action in placing an armed guard at the grave of his wife in Mount Olive Cemetery by saying that he was forced to take this unusual precaution in order to protect his wife's body from ghouls. This precaution became necessary, he says, because of false statements that were circulated before and after death to the family with regard to what had been afflicted. The report that Mrs. Rawak was partially turned into stone by her illness, Mr. Rawak avers, absolved him from such a remedy. Other crowned heads have undoubtedly done the same. Thus we see that the wisest, those with the best opportunity to judge, and rich in unlimited resources, are convinced of the curative qualities of these medicines. With ability to procure the best medical talent in the world, this renowned Queen preferred a genuine remedy which had cured so many people, whose testimonials she had read.

Among all those which rare genius, after long years of study and experiment, has discovered, there is none equal to Dr. Greene's Nervous blood and nerve remedy.

Let others follow these illustrations examples. Don't make any mistake. Take Dr. Greene's Nervous blood and nerve remedy. It is this you need. It is this which will surely make you well and strong.

Mr. Charles H. Weston, residing at 143 State Street, Montpelier, Vt., is of the very highest social position. She says:

"Two years ago we had a terrible experience with La Grippe, and by overwork in taking care of my children and the results of the disease I was left in a very exhausted condition. In fact was nearly prostrated. I was so weak upon the least excitement I would feel nauseated. I was as near nervous prostration as anyone could be."

"Someone recommended Dr. Greene's Nervous blood and nerve remedy to me and I immediately began its use. I am happy to say that it completely cured me. I think it is the best medicine I ever knew of for any form of nervous or chronic disease. I have recommended it to many and shall do so upon every occasion."

If you are nervous, weak, tired, sleepless, if you have headache, indigestion, kidney or liver complaint, poor blood and weak nerves, you can surely regain your health and be as well as you ever were by taking Dr. Green's Nervous blood and nerve remedy.

The strengthening and curative powers of this remedy are wonderful. Use it and you will be made well and strong. ADVANCE IN CANNED CORN.

Indications Point to a Decided Increase in the Price.

Indications point to an advance in canned corn, of possibly, 5 cents per dozen.

PRESIDENT L. G. SEAGER of the Western Packing Canned Goods Association, who is in the city, states that the corn pack is in a strong position. "The west of Ohio," he said, "in hands of about twenty-five canners, which put up fully 85 per cent of the entire pack. The pack has been on hand Oct. 1, 1894, 1,100,000 cases; the same date 1895, 800,000 cases. This and the fact that the crop in Oneida and Lewis Counties, New York, was greatly damaged by frost, and the market price of the pack one-third, and the further fact that jobbers have bought sparingly of futures, leads me to believe that the price will advance in the future.

SEVERAL CUP CHALLENGERS.

Englishmen Determined to Capture the Great Trophy.

WILL BUILD THREE YACHTS.

The Prince of Wales May Send a Challenger Under the Name of Some Friend.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—In connection with the recent challenge for the America's cup by Charles Day Rose, there is evidence that the Britons intend keeping the boat-builders busy the next six months. A yachtsman, who is in close touch with British yachtsmen, having recently returned from Europe, made this statement to the Post-Dispatch reporter:

"Yes, I have heard that Rose is willing to withdraw and I am not a bit surprised. I knowing the situation as I do, I do. The fact is that boats are to be built on the other side and the fastest of the three will be selected to meet the Americans. A British syndicate will include the Earl of Dudley another and the Prince of Wales a third."

"The rumor that the Prince of Wales was about to challenge has been frequently denied. He will not challenge. It would not look well for him to do so. Another man will challenge, but the Prince will build and send his boat. His boat is to be sent over when the time comes, if she is fast enough. As Commodore of the Royal Yacht Squadron he will be forced to come for the Prince to challenge. Besides, it would be equivalent to the Government challenging."

From another source it was learned that there is to be a determined effort on the other side to change the class of the challenging yacht; that is, to build her not over twenty feet on the water line. It is also well understood that at least two of the boats are to be constructed wholly of aluminum. A seventy-foot challenger coming in all four hundred tons, the cup to build one of that dimension to meet her. There is every reason to believe that such a boat will be turned out here in a short time that would put as much of a strain on the British as the Defender.

DEGRADATION THE ART.

John L. Sullivan Expresses His Opinion Regarding Culberson's Course.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 4.—Although confidence between Culberson and Fitzsimmons will be fought, John L. Sullivan is apprehensive of the result of the war. Gov. Culberson is making on pugilism. "All such attacks as those made by the Texas boxer on the city of Cleveland," says Sullivan, "tend to degrade the noble art of boxing in popular estimation. If that fight in Dallas is stopped, pugilism will be regarded as a game to be recovered until conditions are greatly changed. Although the tendency of the age is in the direction of the depreciation of the art, few men in the world people I am willing to wager dollars to beans the time is not far off when it will be in its prime again where all will be honor. Such affairs as the meeting of Culberson and Fitzsimmons tend to elevate the art in the minds of men. It right prevails pugilism will have a great future before it."

THE BROWNS IN 1896.

The Team Now Consists of Donohue, the Only One Signed.

The Brown Stocking Bass Ball Club for the season of 1896 at the present time consists of one player, for Donohue is the only one who has put his signature to a contract. Nearly every other manager in the country has signed at least the majority of his club, but Von der Ahe says that there is plenty of time and that he will not try to sign anyone until January. It seems strange that everything has to be done differently at Spasmatic Park from what is done in other cities and that the formation of the club should be continually put off until the last moment. It is true that the men are reserved and cannot go elsewhere, but the indifference shown about this matter would indicate the same indisposition to gather in new material. Donohue is signed for the purpose of leading him for Latham should the opportunity occur.

GUILLELESS CHURN SELLERS.

They Put Up Jewelry and Dollars for Positions.

Detectives Allender and Smith arrested Russell Woodbridge, alias J. C. Edwards, and E. C. Thomas, alias John Williams, Tuesday morning on complaint of R. E. Walsh of Blasmarck, Mo. Walsh claimed that the two had swindled him out of a gold watch and chain which he had put up as security when he was given an alleged position. The two sold the watch to a jeweler who was well dressed and wore diamonds, and subsequent investigation by the police shows that they have been doing a most prosperous business of their own particular.

So far as the evidence obtained now goes to show, Woodbridge, alias Thomas, must have been at least a double-guilded young man to the tune of $30 apiece.

Up to Saturday they had been running as the Eclipse Manufacturing Co., room 65 of the De Menil building. The specialty of this company was churns. They had a small shop in the basement, and during the day they made butter and cream, and all the butter and cream could out of skimmed milk than any other churn could out of cream, and all one had to do to get money was to sell these wonderful goods.

MADRID, Oct. 8.—Despatches received from the city of Barcelona announce that serious conflicts have taken place there between the Liberal and Catholic students at the university. ## CROWDS AT THE FAIR INCREASING.

Competition in Saddle Horses Progressing Tuesday.

A REMARKABLE EXHIBIT.

Something About the Dahomey Village. the '49ers' Camp, the Aztec Village and Other Features.

The fair started off Tuesday morning with a boom. Enthusiasm prevailed everywhere. The fair in all put everyone on their mettle—men, boys and girls. Crowds began pouring into the gates bright and early and soon the sunny grounds were dotted over with the happy throngs of city and country cousins mingled together. The side shows with their gay tents and long streamers, with the cryers calling out the attractions, were doing a lively business, and even the usually lugubrious balloon fakir had cheerful countenances.

The saddle horse competition in the arena, together with the novel specialties, served to break up by a high precipice and rocky gulch and now this pocket is situated the amusement center of the fair. It is a gimped and queer affair with an exterior appearance that would fill any old man's heart with delight, and looks as though it might have been built by some other resort equally famous. At the other end of the camp are the most important adjuncts of a carnival. Walled around trees are humorous placards telling where the best drinks are to be had, where a visitor can find the most trouble, and where to get a shave washed.

Next in importance to the saloons and beer gardens is the private graveyard. Here the citizens exercise their greatest ingenuity and versatility. It is generally a picturesque place well pointed to with pride by all the citizens.

The one in the '49 camp at the Fair's entrance is the most unique and interesting. It is the private graveyard. Here the citizens exercise their greatest ingenuity and versatility. It is generally a picturesque place well pointed to with pride by all the citizens.

The Astec Village is a decidedly novel exhibit. It is planned with the idea of direct descendants of the original Aztecs and Mexicas. They portray the domestic life of the early Cliff Dwellers, that mysterious people around whose existence such a weird and fascinating interest clings. They also weave gaily-colored mats and rugs and manufacture novel and picturesque pots and pieces of earthenware.

The Daughters of the Confederacy have a tent near the House of Comfort, and all are invited to receive the same. The proceeds are for the benefit of the Confederate Home at Higginsville.

The Dahomey village is an attraction which has won the admiration of the colored people. They stand out in front and gaze idly by the hour at the individuals who tell of the mysteries within. Every now and then a blare of bugle or drum sounds off with an ivory horn which he toots with great solemnity and the excitement is thereby increased.

You follow some curious sights inside the high board enclosure. A pleasant-looking old Frenchman with a purr hat on and a long, flowing beard, who has come to the fair to see the trapezeists from their airy heights into the icy font of water below.

Horsemen were scattered about the amphitheater, and the fine ponies and the animals whom the judges were trying for the premiums. The universal comment was that the exhibition was one of the best ever seen.

Awards in the other departments are being made as fast as possible, and by nightfall all of the judges will be well into their work.

The prospects for a tremendous attendance at the Fair could not be better. The opening day left nothing to be asked for, and the crowds were so great that the city indicates an enormous influx. The advantages of the Union Station are now strongly in evidence, and capacious as it is, there is no room for the many who are coming from the surrounding towns to see the sights. Every morning and every night the midway stretching from Eleventh to Twenty-third streets is a solid mass of humanity pushing their way out into the streets.

The hotel men are simply in clover. All the hotels are doing a big business, but within the past two years the accommodations have all increased that no visitor can afford to pay the same price. This was formerly a source of great annoyance. Every Fair week people could be seen walking the streets. Now, although more people are here, over one million to find a place to lay his head. The new hotels mark a big advance in the improvement of the city.

The crowds this year have more money and appear better dressed than ever before. The farmer is beginning to feel the effects of the fair, and the city is doing its best to stimulate it in St. Louis by investing liberally in what he needs for the winter.

The best way to see that portion of the Fair which has nothing to do with the industrial change into your pocket and start out east on the main street. You will not be instructed save in the ways by which the unwary fall victim to the wiles of the sharper. There are, however, a host of others, with honest intent, who are to be found. Plenty of amusement may be found and no end of experience. This must be sought among the sideshows, the features, the various attractions, which are to be taken, and some of which are not. What one might term the boldest sort of a fake, however, another, perhaps just as wise, views as a mere diversion, like fun and consider highly educational. Some of these features are decidedly interesting and real.

The consensus of opinion Monday seemed to be in favor of the three arena attractions, entirely under the auspices of the association given above. The first is the attractions consisting of Moenche's the trick bicyclist, who rides down a ladder at an angle of 45 degrees; Herr Granada, the noted high wire walker, and another, who walks across the arena on a slack wire, a distance of one-quarter of a mile, and cooks a distance of a mile while sitting on the wire; and Andre' and Gobet, the acrobats, who perform a series of dexterous, whose thrilling exploit of diving 60 feet into a shallow bath capturing the crowd.

MAJESTIC COOK BOOK

Remember these Directions for using Cottolene

For shortening never use more than two-thirds as much Cottolene as you would of lard.

When frying with Cottolene always put it in a cold pan, heating it with the pan.

Cottolene produces the best results when very hot, but as it reaches the cooking point much sooner than lard, care should be taken not to let it burn—when hot enough, it will definitely brown a bit of bread in half a minute.
